Considerations for Meaningful Inclusion

- Work within the legal, regulatory, and ethical framework
- Balance responsibilities: participants' interests and maximal use of their donation
- Provide mechanisms for engagement across axes of diversity
- Exercise cultural humility
- Respect participant autonomy
- Ensure risks and benefits are distributed equitably

All of Us Data Access Framework | Principles

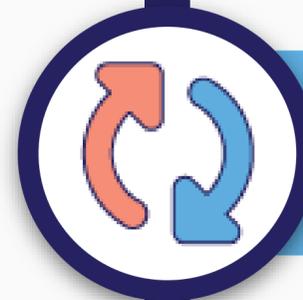

Data is a non-scarce resource

- Therefore, data should be as accessible as possible
- Accessibility includes researchers outside of academic medical centers and industrial biosciences

Participants are research partners

- Must protect people to the greatest extent possible

Barriers to access must be periodically reappraised

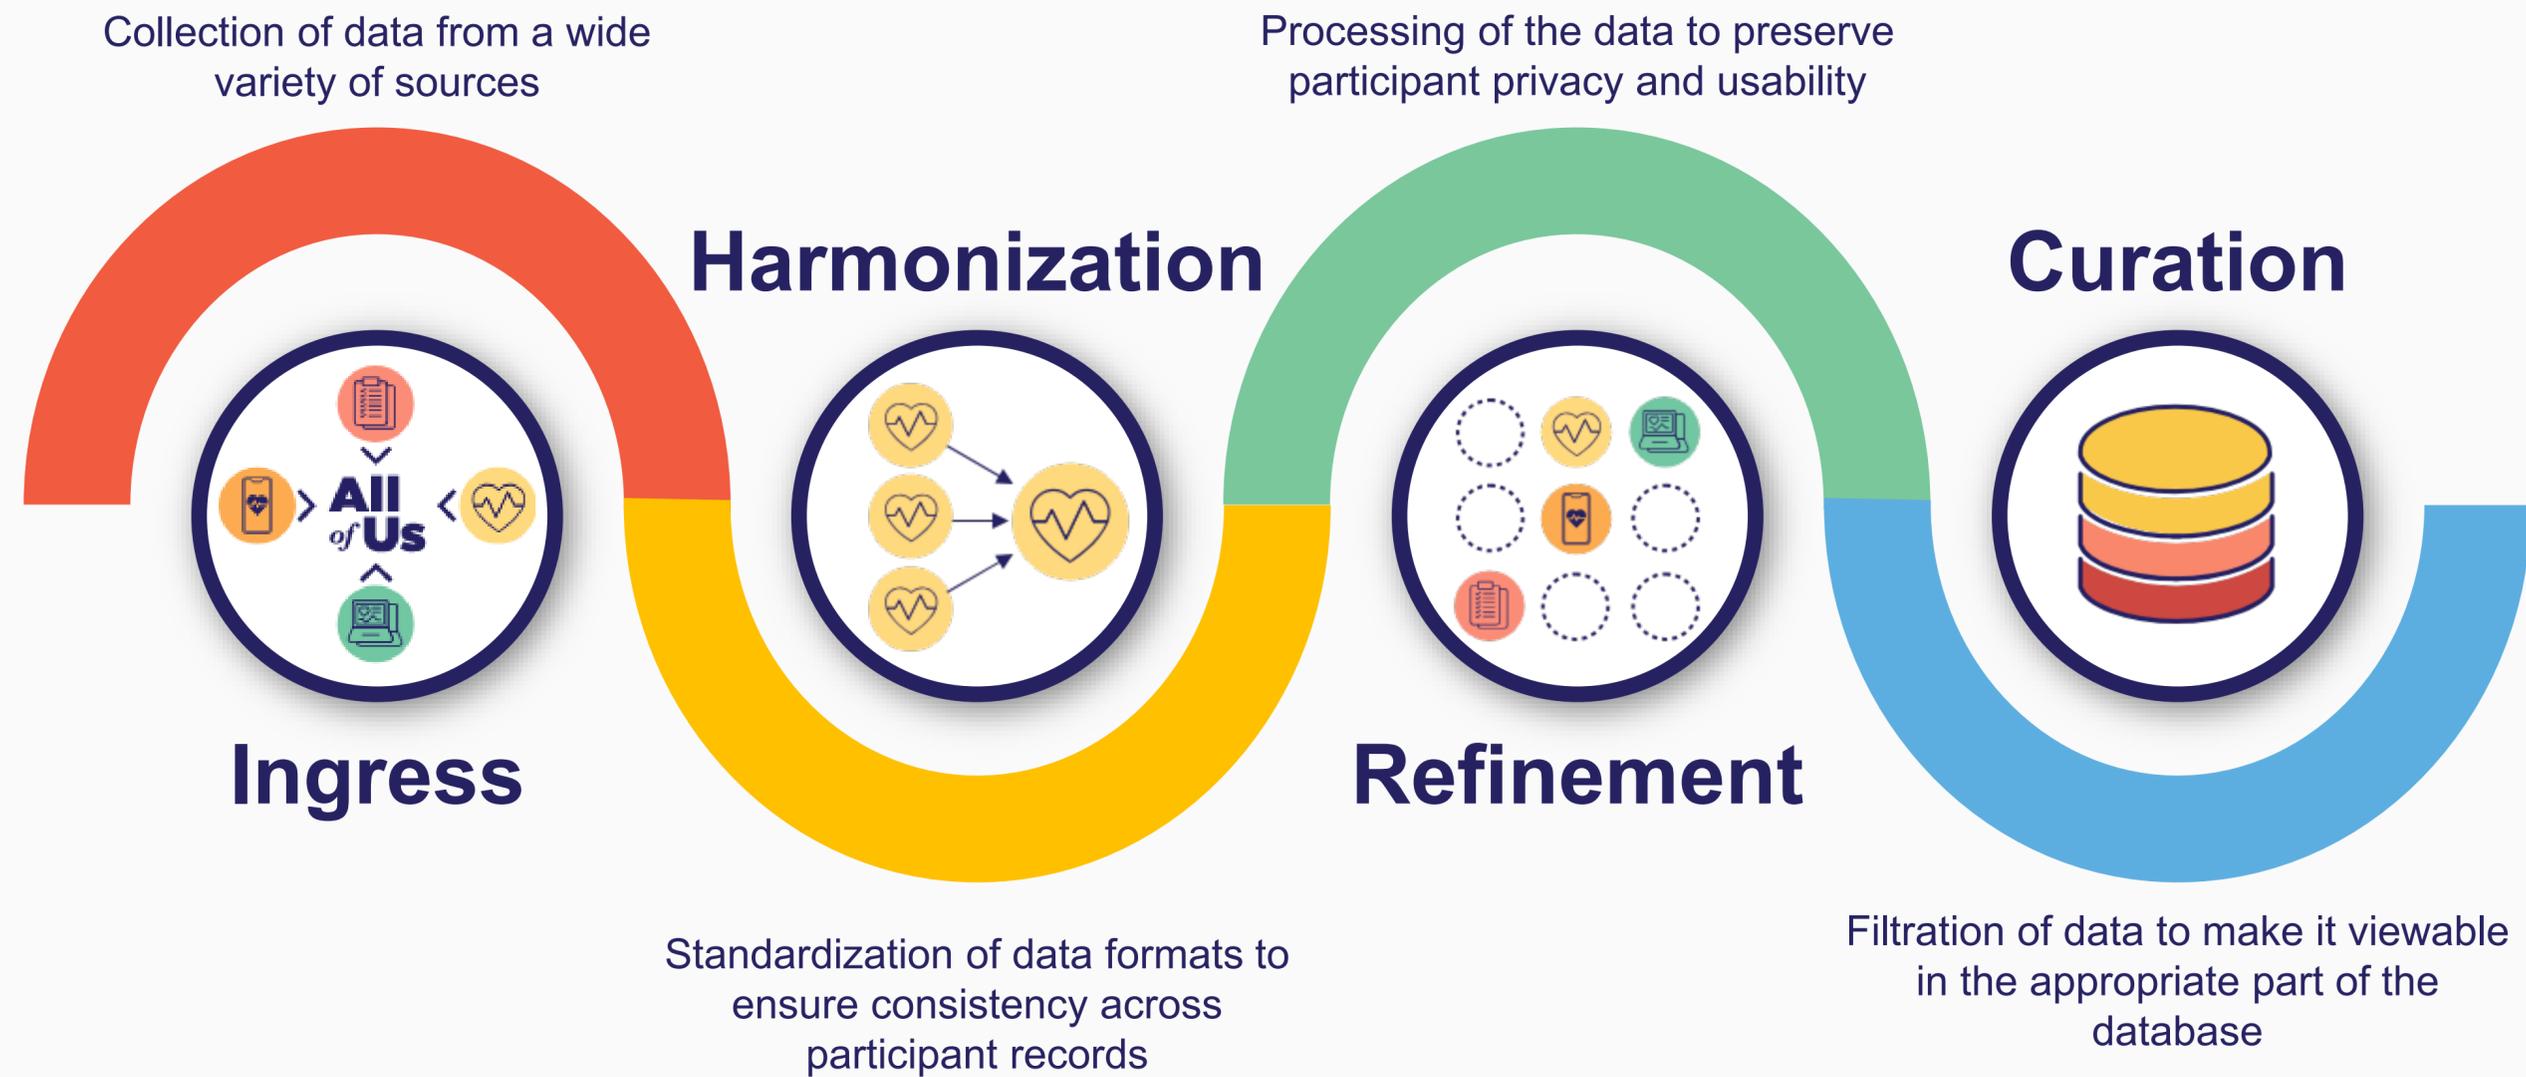

- Aim for minimum necessary barriers to access
- No group of users should have privileged access to the resources

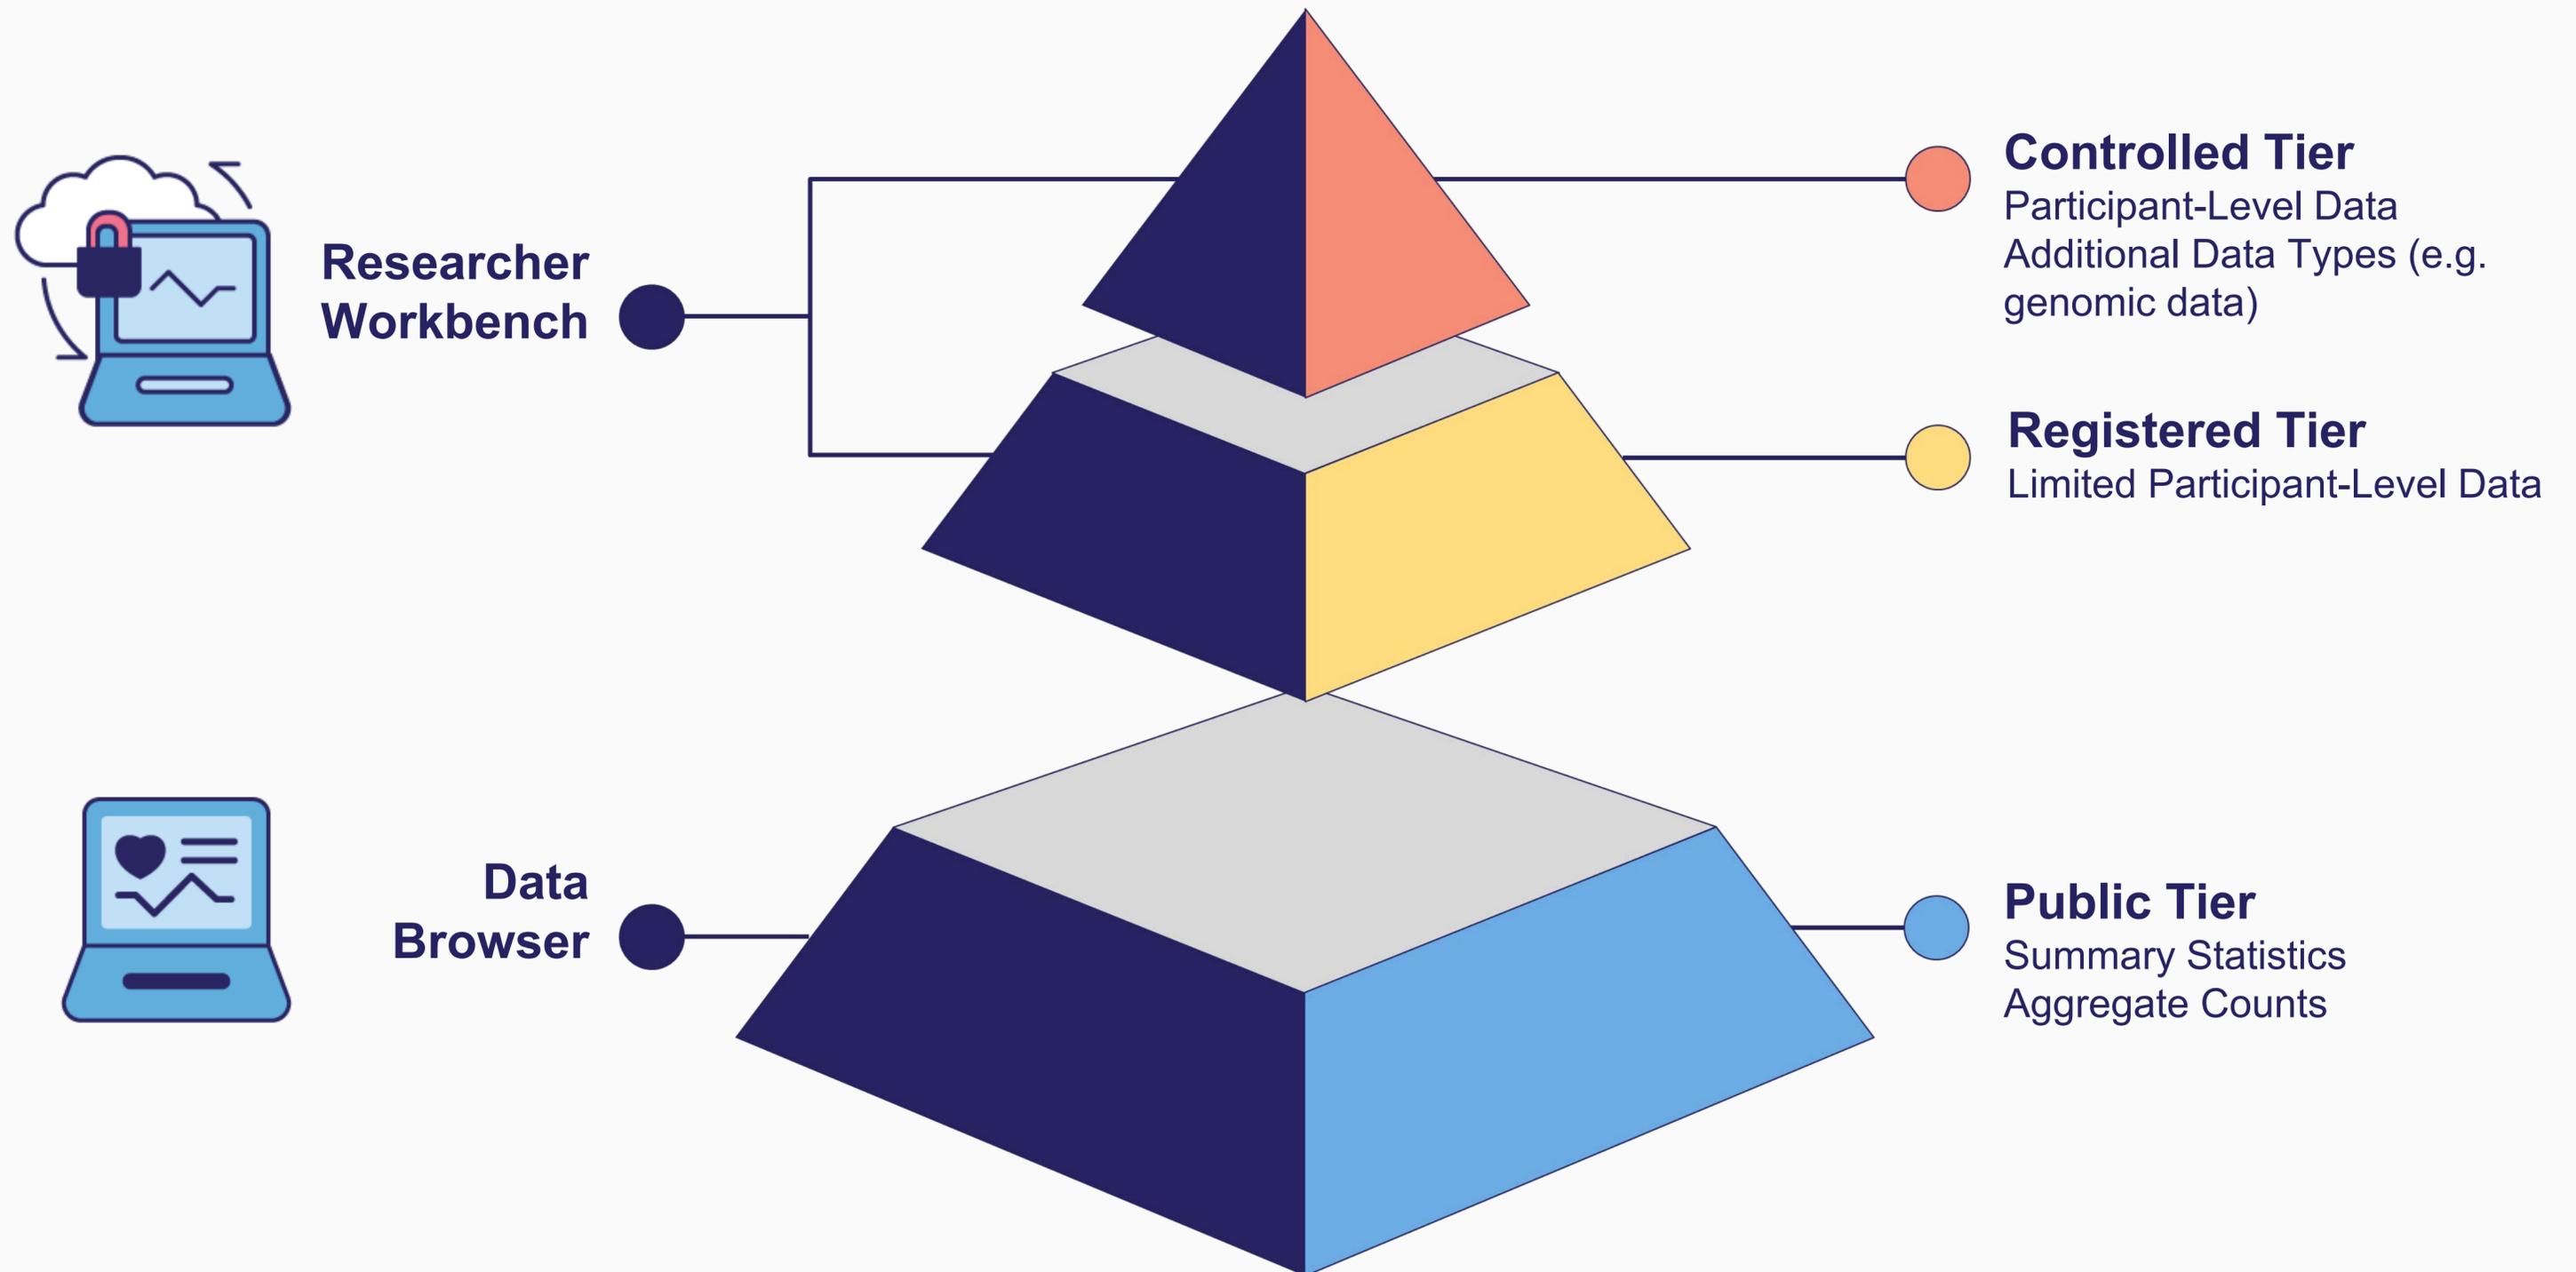

Data Governance | Logistics

- Database Compilation and Structure
- Data Access Process
- Privacy and Security Measures

The All of Us Research Program Database

The All of Us Research Hub | Data Access Tiers

The All of Us Research Hub | The Researcher Workbench

The All of Us Research Hub | Access Process

All of Us Data Passports

The All of Us Researcher Workbench uses a "data passport" model to give registered researchers broad access to the Researcher Workbench rather than granting data access on a project-by-project or question-by-question basis.

- Once they complete the requisite steps, researchers can create workspaces in the tier or tiers to which they have access—no pre-approval required
- When researchers set up their workspaces, they are required to provide public-facing project descriptions on the platform
- Researchers must ensure that their research complies with the program's data use policies

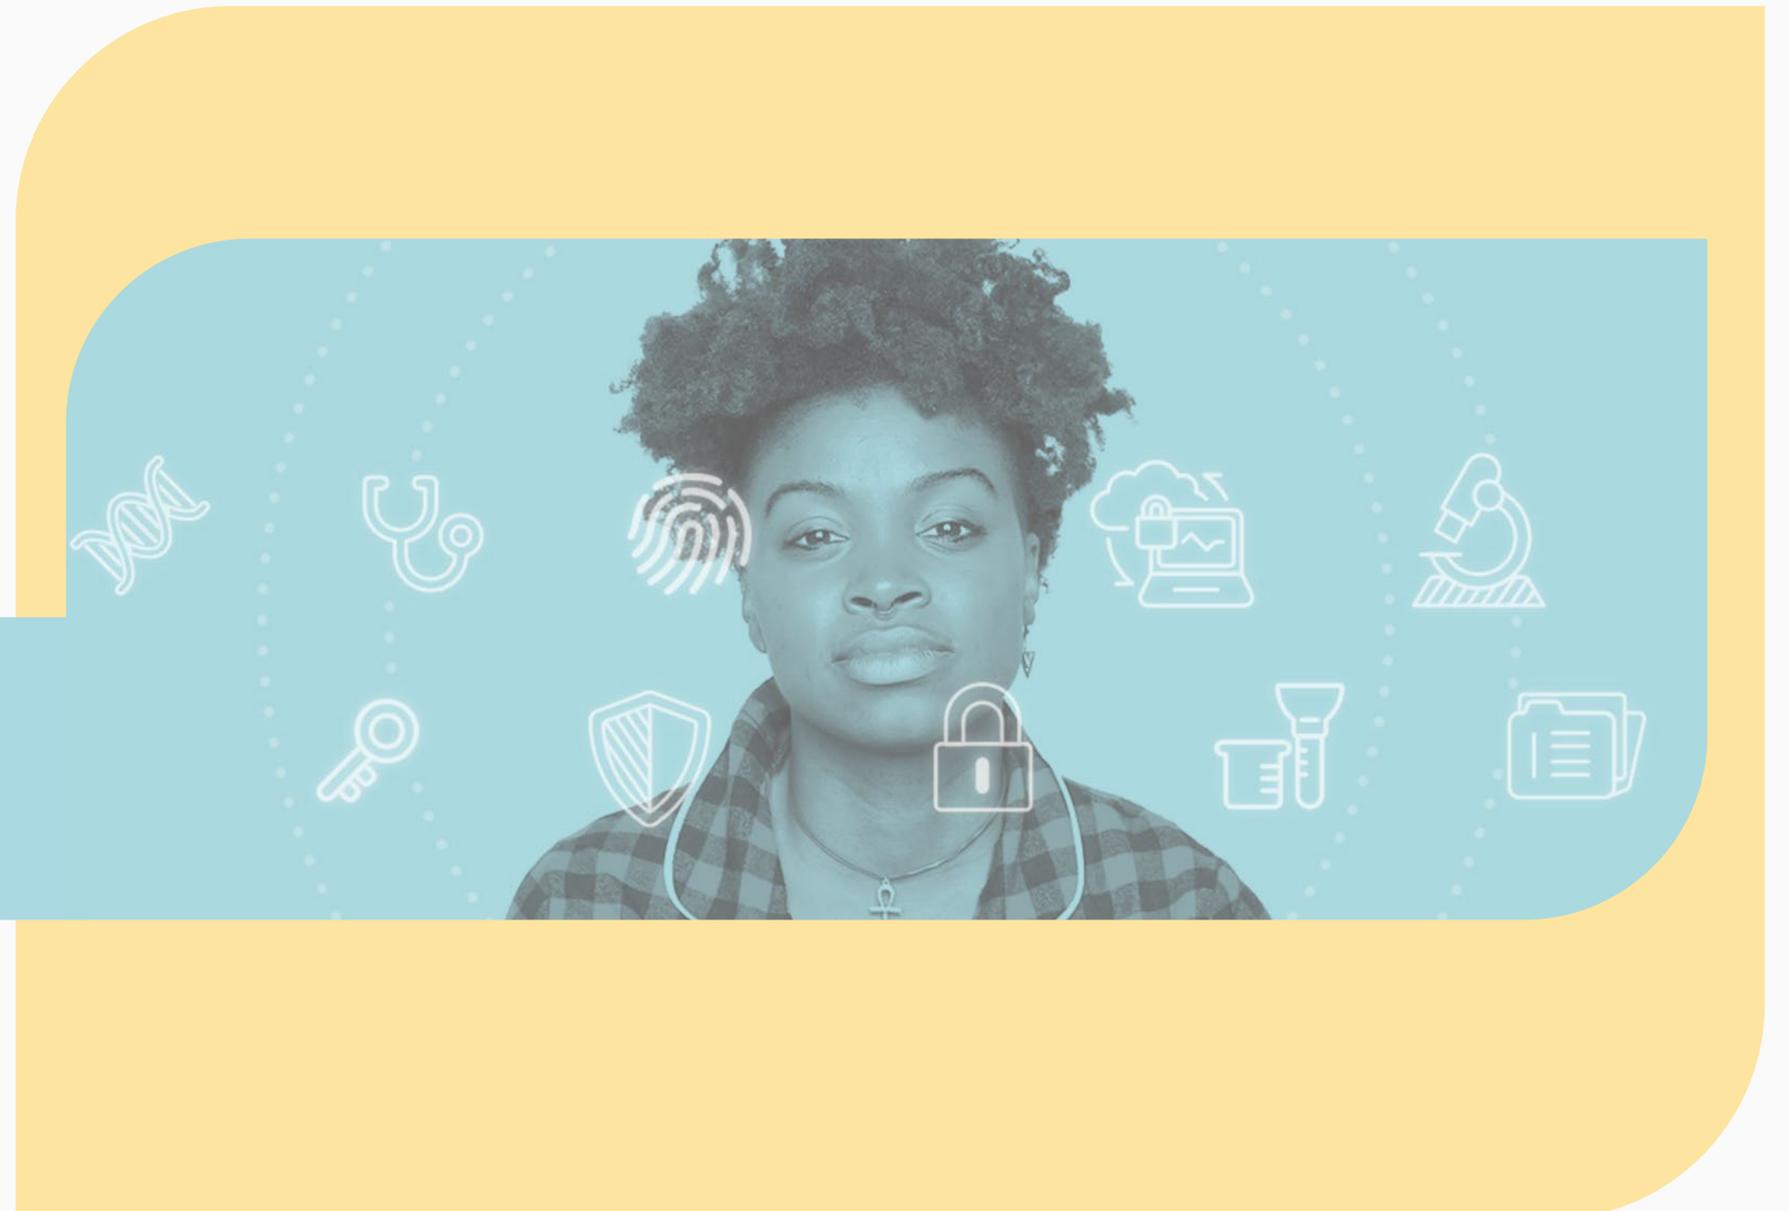

All of Us Research Program Privacy and Security Measures

Partner organizations must meet strict data security standards before they may collect, transfer, or store information from participants

All participant data is encrypted and obvious identifiers are removed from data used for research

Researchers must register with the program, complete ethics training, and agree to a code of conduct for responsible data use

Independent reviewers to check plans and test systems on an ongoing basis to ensure the program has effective security controls in place

Assistance and Oversight ELSI Considerations

Issues of...

- Subjectivity
 - Who should determine what is and is not compliant? What is and is not stigmatizing?
 - What happens when people disagree about what is or is not compliant? What is and is not stigmatizing?
- Intent vs. Application
 - What should be the limitations on data use where there is good intent but high potential for the downstream misapplication or misuse of findings?
 - Can/how do we control downstream use?
 - Are there topics that should always be off limits?
- Protections vs. Rights
 - When should the potential benefit (or harm) to an individual, group, or community outweigh researchers' rights and freedoms?
